Brief of the Activity

In order to organize the Constro Exhibition, PCERF invites volunteers from educational institutions. This is an opportunity for the students to interact with various vendors and professionals. The students of M. Arch in Design & Project Management, volunteered with PCERF for organizing the expert lectures and panel discussions.

Summary of the activity:

The Volunteering process starts ahead of the exhibition, as the exhibition requires management of various aspects such as Spatial design of exhibition space, provisions for enabling infrastructure required by each exhibiting booth, coordination with the exhibiting vendors/manufacturers/service providers etc, coordination with the experts for lectures/presentations/panel discussions etc.

Such activities required the volunteers to have good communication skills, spatial understanding, knowledge of infrastructure and interpersonal skills to navigate with the experts.

M. Arch students dedicatedly performed for both the backend and frontend work required to organize the Constro 2024 successfully.
